Customized, “Above and Beyond”
Service for Every Client

rafcoprop.com

Our clients expect the exceptional from us. Which is “above and beyond” service remains our main mission—and the way we conduct business every day at Rafco.

We’re a full-service property management, development and consulting company, and we proactively manage over 2 million square feet of commercial office, retail and residential space throughout St. Louis. In fact, we typically service premium properties and high-demand clients—and we’re a uniquely experienced and diversified company with four distinct service divisions:

- Property Management & Maintenance
- Corporate Campus Management
- Facility Optimization & Consulting
- Residential/Community Association Services

From commercial to residential, our ultimate goal is proactive management of your property assets, to help protect and maximize the value of your investment long-term. But what separates us from the cookie-cutter solutions of larger companies is our hands-on, boutique-style service. Thanks to our smaller size, we can be more agile, more responsive to your needs—and provide a wider array of highly specialized services. So whether you need comprehensive property management or a few specific services, you can rely on us for a customized plan tailored to your needs as well as your budget.

RAFCO™

Exceptional Services for Exceptional Properties

From proactive property management to professional consulting to residential and community associations, see how Rafco can make an extraordinary difference in your success—and protect the long-term value of your property assets.

Our Philosophy

Since the year 2000, Rafco was built on the principle of caring for a property as if it's our own. That same philosophy still guides our company today, in everything we do and for every property we manage. We understand that each client is unique, and every property is a valuable asset. So we strive every day to deliver proactive, highly personalized service to help protect your property investments. Exceptional service is always the first priority to ensure every job—large or small—is done with attention to detail, and done right the first time.

Our People

Experience matters—and with the right people on the job, it makes all the difference. From management to field staff, we expect nothing less than the best from our employees. Which is why we go to extraordinary lengths to hire experienced and dedicated individuals who share our commitment to excellence, and who support Rafco's philosophy of exceptional service for exceptional properties.
